QUICK RELIEF OF ITCHING ECZEMA
 Was Surprising—Inflammation Reduced in a Few Hours and Cure Soon Followed—Boy's Torture Had Been Intense for Years—Friend's Child had Eczema, Too.

MOTHER TELLS HOW CUTICURA CURED BOTH

"When my boy was six years old, he suffered terribly with eczema. He could neither sit still nor lie quietly in bed, for the itching was dreadful. He would irritate spots by scratching with his nails and thereby made them worse. A doctor treated him and we tried almost everything, but the eczema seemed to spread. It started in a small place on the lower extremities and spread for two years until it very nearly covered the back part of his leg to the knee.
 "Finally I got Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills and gave them according to directions. I used them in the morning and at evening, before I put my boy to bed, I used them again and the improvement even in those few hours was surprising, the inflammation seemed to be so much less. I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, the same of the Pills and the Soap and my boy was cured. My son is now in his seventeenth year and he has never had a return of the eczema.
 "I took care of a friend's child that had eczema on its face and limbs and I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. They acted on the child just as they did on my son and it has never returned. I would recommend the Cuticura Remedies to anyone. Mrs. A. J. Cochran, 1823 Columbia Ave., Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 20, 1906."

FOR SKIN HUMORS
 Torturing, disfiguring patches of humor on the skin, scalp or hands are instantly relieved and speedily cured in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings of Cuticura Ointment. WOOD WILL GO FOR ESCAPED PRISONER
 The San Francisco police have arrested somebody who belongs to Hawaii. According to the plainest language that can be exchanged by cable the man is Tin Soon and therefore belongs to the Territory of Hawaii beyond dispute, being an escaped prisoner. But there is a chance that he is not the escaped Chinaman and is really Thomas Elder as he claims to be. Therefore, while he belongs to Hawaii, he is not necessarily answerable to its beak and call.
 The man who is to settle the quandary is Billy Wood, whom High Sheriff Henry will detach from his permanent duty of chasing Anderson Grace to take the little jaunt to Frisco town and interview the alleged Thomas Elder.
 The man was taken into custody by the San Francisco police yesterday upon the arrival of the steamer Sierra at that port. He was turned over to the police officers by Captain Houdlette who had already received wireless from Sheriff Jarrett containing descriptions of Tin Soon, who escaped at seven o'clock of the morning that the Sierra sailed.
 The Frisco police cabled for another description of the man which Henry answered, receiving in turn the following last night:
 "Elder has all marks."
 While Associated Press cables yesterday afternoon state that the arrested man denies emphatically that he is Tin Soon, local officers are fairly certain that it is none other.

REMAINS OF GEORGE BECKLEY COMING
 It was announced yesterday that the remains of George C. Beckley, who died Monday in San Francisco, will arrive in Honolulu on the liner Wilhelmina, July 12, and that the funeral services will be conducted by Pacific Lodge, F. and A. M., of which Mr. Beckley was a member.
 Mrs. Beckley cabled Bruce Cartwright, who holds a power of attorney for the late Mr. Beckley, that she and her daughter would leave San Francisco on the Wilhelmina, accompanying the body of the former Honolulu. The full details of the funeral arrangements will be made known when the Wilhelmina arrives.
 The late Mr. Beckley was a thirty-second degree mason.
 He was a member of the masters and pilots' association, and at the next meeting of that organization, which will be held on the first Sunday in August, fitting resolutions of respect will be passed.

"WEALTHY PLANTER" TO WED BERKELEY GIRL

BERKELEY, June 20.—Of the three university graduates who went from the campus two years ago to teach school in the Sandwich Islands, two are soon to be married, and rumor has it that the third has fallen before the darts of Cupid.
 A bit of interesting news which has reached this city is the approaching marriage of Miss Ethel Hamilton of the class of 1908, who, with Miss Jessie McCormick, whose engagement to R. Hunn of Honolulu was recently announced, left for the Islands with a third classmate.
 Miss Hamilton, whose parents are members of a well known Rio Vista family, has named July 17 for her wedding with H. Witte, a wealthy planter of the Islands, and she is now on her way home.
 For the last two years Miss Hamilton has been teaching at the Kawaihau seminary of Honolulu and has resigned her position to marry the man of her choice. Miss McCormick will also be married early next month in the Islands.

JUDGE LYMAN, OF HAWAII, DEAD

The Venerable Kamaaina Passes Away After Long Illness—An Honorable History.

THE LATE RUFUS A. LYMAN.

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)
 Rufus A. Lyman, one of Hawaii's most widely known kamaainas, died at his home in Hilo yesterday. His brother David Lyman arrived only last week from the mainland and arrived at Hilo on Wednesday. Members of his family who were absent were Lieutenant Lyman of the cavalry branch of the United States Army; Lieutenant Lyman of the Engineer Corps, U. S. A., and Cadet-Corporal Lyman, at West Point, who is famous as a baseball catcher for the military academy nine.
 Judge Lyman was one of the grand old men of Hawaii. He was one of the resident circuit judges on the island of Hawaii when the supreme court justices used to hold the jury terms in all the circuits of the islands. A member of one of the old missionary families, he was a useful and an exemplary citizen. Quite recently Judge Lyman served on the federal jury in Honolulu.
 Judge Lyman was a son of Rev. David B. Lyman, who founded the Hilo Boys' School in 1836, which is today one of the leading institutions of this Territory, combining industrial training with ordinary education. The oldest son was Henry Lyman, author of "Hawaiian Yesterdays," a most interesting book on old times in modern Hawaii. David B. Lyman, named after his father, is another brother. He is a wealthy lawyer and real estate broker of Chicago and was present at his brother's deathbed, having hurried from here to Hilo last Tuesday after landing on his native Hawaiian soil after an absence of fifty years. Frederick Lyman of Hilo is another brother, also at one time a judge, who is now in poor health. The youngest brother, Francis, is a partner of David in Chicago. He married Miss Dana, daughter of the author of "Two Years Before the Mast." A sister of Judge Lyman married Samuel Wilcox of Kauai.
 Mrs. Lyman, who was a Brickwood, died some years ago. There is a large family surviving Judge Lyman. Kamehameha V. was a great friend of his, owing in part probably to the high family connections of Mrs. Lyman.

CAN COMPANY TO BUILD FACTORY

Improved Machinery Is to be Installed in Proposed Structure.

The arrival of John M. Young, the general manager of the American Can Company, on the Siberia last Monday marks a new era in the company's business in Hawaii, for he is busily engaged at present in perfecting the company's new plans for local improvements, which include the building of a new factory with a capacity double the expected demand.
 One reason for the proposed factory is the growth of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company to the commercial dimensions which it has attained, the American Can Company at present occupying one of the buildings of the former company at Iwilei.
 Upon the removal of the can company the other will take possession of the building and utilize the increased floor space it thus obtains for pineapple canning.
 The second reason for the change is the desire of the can company to introduce the new and improved machinery which it has installed in many of its nineteen factories on the mainland. This machinery is radically different from that now in service and by means of it the capacity of the factory is greatly increased with very little extra floor space needed.
 Mr. Young stated yesterday that no site had as yet been selected, but that it would in all probability be near the present one owing to the convenient transportation facilities. He will remain in the Islands for about a month, and is making the most of his visit from a vacation standpoint. All plans for the new building will be completed in about two weeks' time.
 The Belgian training ship L'Avenir has left the wharf and anchored in the harbor waiting orders to sail.

THAYER SPENDING HIS OWN MONEY

Walter Dillingham Clears Up the Mystery of Albert Finlay's Activities.

After all that has been said and printed about Walter F. Dillingham's connection with Alfred Finlay Thayer's connection with purchases of friars lands in the Philippines, it all turns out that he has not been a purchaser of such lands, has no financial interest in any ideas which Mr. Thayer has made there, and the only connection he has had is to the extent of a few hundred dollars to pay any expenses Mr. Thayer might incur while looking over propositions in which he thought Mr. Dillingham might be interested at some future time.
 Mr. Dillingham's statement as to his alleged connection with friars land purchases clears away much of the doubt and uncertainty which have arisen since Mr. Thayer made his very certain statement that he was purchasing entirely for Mr. Dillingham.
 "In a nutshell," said Mr. Dillingham yesterday, "Mr. Thayer came to me about the time he was preparing to leave for Manila and laid before me a proposition with reference to investments in lands in the Philippines, explaining that he would have some connection with government affairs and would have opportunities to investigate properties. He mentioned sugar plantations, but I want nothing of the kind. However, after some conversation I told him that if he wanted to look around he could do so and I would be willing that he should draw on me for any expenses incurred on my behalf to the extent of a few hundred dollars. It would be the same if a man told me he was going over to Hawaii to look over propositions and if he found anything worth while would advise me. He said that that if he reported anything to me I could send some one over to investigate the propositions reported on."
 "That was all there was to it. I am not financially interested in any deals of Mr. Thayer in the Philippines. He has written me a letter explaining that he has secured some lands, believes they can be utilized for a sugar plantation and states his belief that the Philippines will be among the finest sugar producing countries. He states in this letter that he is financing his deals himself, in which he has interested a Puget Sound friend of himself and his father. He states that if I want to send some one down there to investigate, he will be glad to show him what lands he has control of, or will come to Honolulu and explain them to me. He adds also that all the fuss made over the sale of the friars lands will not amount too much and that the title is clear and certain.
 "I didn't know that my name was being used to the extent I ascertained, and I find also that my name has been used in connection with Congressman Martin's statements on the subject. And yet I am not interested financially in these deals of Mr. Thayer's."

DECIDE TO DOUBLE OUTPUT

Pineapple Juice Bottlers Will Put Up Two Million Bottles.

Two million bottles of pineapple juice put up by the Hawaiian Pineapple Products Company, of which James D. Dole is president, will be packed and made ready for shipment this year. The company has had an unusual demand for this popular juice, both locally and from mainland concerns, and will devote much of its attention toward putting out enough to supply all demands. The company proposes to utilize the winter by-season for putting up an unusually large amount of the juice.
 The first statements of the company were that about 40,000 cases would be put out this summer, but having decided to bottle during the winter season the total output will run close to 80,000 cases. The company puts a dozen quart bottles in a case; twenty-four pints to a case, thirty-six half-pints and seventy-two bottles of what are called "singles" or practically samples. The cases will average six twenty-five bottles and 80,000 cases means practically two million bottles to store this new juice for shipment to mainland soda water stands, grocers, jobbers, and not the least, the Hawaii Promotion Committee's bureau at Atlantic City, where Secretary Wood is advertising all brands of pineapples and products thereof in a manner which is causing the mail of the local company to become much larger.
 The new stock issue of the pineapple products company is pretty well disposed of, that is, the amount of stock the company wishes to dispose of on the market. The company does not expect to keep the stock on the market much longer, at least at the $18 figure first quoted, and the remainder of the stock may be withdrawn in a few days.
 The pineapple canning season is well on, although the rush season has not commenced at the Iwilei cannery.
 It is expected the Fram will leave San Francisco in June or July of next year. Captain Amundsen is now in Norway and will come to San Francisco several days before he starts on his dash for the pole. The explorer expects to go to through Bering Strait into the Arctic and drift with the ice over the pole.
 Alexander Young, who died last Saturday, left an estate valued at $1,125,785, consisting of real estate worth $54,250 and personal property—furniture, pictures, books, money and notes—valued at $1,071,535.
 Of this the greater amount is left in trust for the heirs, all of whom are members of the family.
 Alexander Young, in his will, which was filed for probate yesterday, names W. O. Smith, W. H. Baird, R. A. Young, A. A. Young and C. von Hamm as his executors and trustees.
 The Waikiki property, including furniture and fittings, is left absolutely to the widow, Mrs. Ruth Young, who gets, in addition, an annuity of $6000 a year. The rest of the estate is left in trust.
 Mr. Young in his will states that he has already given each of his children the sum of $40,000 absolutely. This amount is not to be charged against them in the trust, but all sums any of them may have received over and above that amount are to be deducted from their share of the income.
 Mr. Young leaves a few small bequests. To his brother, George Young, he leaves $1000. To his sister, Margaret Harriet, $1000; to each of the children of this sister the sum of $500; to his nieces of Mrs. Young $500 each; to his grandsons $1000 each.
 Of the total income from the trust estate the widow is to get one-third; the remaining two-thirds is to be divided among the sons and daughters share and share alike.

YOUNG ESTATE LEFT IN TRUST

Value of the Property Placed at $1,125,785—One-Third Goes to Widow.

SPAIN'S ROYAL HEIR MAY NEVER REIGN

Eldest Son of King Alfonso Is Believed to Be Defective.

MADRID, June 11.—Despite the official pronouncement that the eldest son of the King, the little Prince of the Asturias is "quite an intelligent child," and that reports of his ill health are greatly exaggerated, the impression is growing that the second son, Prince Jaime, will eventually be named heir to the throne in place of his defective older brother.
 Alfonso was born in May, 1907, and is therefore three years old, an age at which a child should be able to talk intelligently, especially when nurses and governesses have been trying assiduously to bring out his powers. The second child, Prince Jaime, who is two years old, is already able to speak, which is a striking proof of the deficiency of his brother.
 The Prince of the Asturias is a fairly well grown child, but has a very heavy, dull lifeless face, with an expression that is peculiar to children who have a congenital defect of hearing. This expression arises from the fact that sounds and impressions from the outside world are not reaching their brains and exciting a normal play of the facial muscles. If there ever was a child who stood in danger of suffering from the sins of the fathers, it is certainly this little Prince.
 Centuries and centuries of madness and corruption lie behind him. Superhuman power and monstrous sins have played their part in wrecking the minds of his ancestors. You might go back for a thousand years and you will find that every generation of his ancestors contained some monster of vice or cruelty, like Pedro, the cruel, of Castile.
 History has thrown a certain glimmer of romance about Charles V., perhaps because many wonderful centers of art and culture existed in his dominions. Modern research, however, has shown that he was really a brutal and stupid sensualist. Probably no greater glutton ever lived. He frequently devoured a hundred pickled herrings for his supper, washed down by two gallons of beer.
 Charles was succeeded in his Spanish dominions by his son Philip II, who became notorious as the gloomiest and most bloodthirsty bigot that ever ruled. In his youth he nearly lost his life for falling in love with his own stepmother. He exterminated one-third of the heroic population of the Netherlands in a mad effort to force them to accept his beliefs.
 After this the Spanish monarchs frequently showed traces of imbecility.

MRS. PLOTNER IS SUING FOR DIVORCE

To those who met Mrs. Rosa Hopper Plotner during her three months' stay here last winter, at which time she made a display of her miniatures at the Kiloahua Art League and also received commissions for the painting of likenesses of several well-known Honolulu residents, the following clipping from the San Francisco Bulletin of June 29 will be of interest:
 A divorce suit filed in the county clerk's office by Rosa Hopper Plotner against Charles Albert Plotner, a retired army officer, has brought to an end a romance that was several years ago the talk of army and artistic circles.
 Mrs. Plotner, who is the daughter of the late Major Hooper, charges her husband with willful neglect.
 Their wedding followed a romance begun at the old Occidental Hotel, of which Major Hooper was proprietor. Mrs. Plotner had been educated abroad and had attained some distinction by her excellent miniature painting.
